Philipine Chepkoech Kidulah, also known as Pini, is a native of West Pokot County and a founding member of Jitokeze Wamama Wafrika, a community based organization committed to serving the people of West Pokot County who face vulnerability to droughts and conflicts induced by Climate Change. Philipine works with women and youth of Kenya and Rwanda to promote community economic development, Christian discipleship, leadership, missions, and Peacebuilding . She has a Masters Degree in International Development from Eastern University in St. Davids, PA and a Bachelor Degree in Environmental Studies and Community Development from Kenya University in Nairobi, Kenya. Pini's work is endorsed and supported by the Philadelphia Baptist Association and the American Baptist Women's Ministries of PBA. We are blessed by her work and witness. Please come out to support her and to encourage one another in the ministry of community empowerment. Please encourage leaders of your community ministry efforts to attend.
